That Betharramite religious are present in the Bethlehem and Nazareth at all is due to Providential intervention, centered on the persistence of Sister Mary of Jesus Crucified (now Blessed Miriam Bouardy). These two houses, were the centers of formation for all Betharramite religious from the 1880's, when they were founded by Fathers Etchecopar and Estrate, until 1947. Casa Nova

Custody of the Holy Land

Bethlehem

Adapting to the times, the Franciscans built houses separate from the monasteries. Thus began the “Casa Nuevo”, a hybrid word (Latin-Tuscan), to describe the hostel for pilgrims. (The Friars coined the name “Casa Nova”). By 1910, all the Franciscan Pilgrim lodgings had the same name.

According to a document from 1377 AD, near to the place of birth of Jesus, there was already a hostel for women. The present Casa Nova was completely reconstructed and inaugurated in 1986. Now it is one of the most modern of the Franciscan pilgrimage houses.

In 1925 a Franciscan church and a hostel -Casa Nova- were built on the summit. A winding and rather difficult road leads to the summit of Mount Tabor. Vehicles reach the summit only, and visitors coming by bus may reach the top by a taxi service available at the parking lot at the foot of the mountain. Tiberias

The Casa Nova in Tiberias was built in 1903 and recently renovated. Although the Casa Nova of Tiberias primarily offers bed and breakfast facilities, it also has a small kitchenette where guests can prepare their own meals. For pilgrims and pilgrim-leaders, the Casa Nova is an ideal, expensive place to stay while visiting the Galilee area. In the evening, the balcony overlooking the Sea of Galilee is wonderful... and it fits every pilgrim's "pocket-book" quite comfortably. It has 25 rooms with two beds (4 of these have three beds), and two dormitories (6 beds each).

The Casa Nova borders the Church of St. Peter on the North side. The Franciscan Friary borders the Church on the South. The church is open for pilgrim groups to come and pray, and for Eucharistic Celebrations. It is necessary to call the Friary in advance to make sure of time-reservations.

Taybeh owes its Pilgrim's Hostel to the French Lieutenancy of the Knights of the Holy Sepulcher. One of its former Lieutenants, Général de Chizelles, informed of the desire of many pilgrims to come and stay in Taybeh, decided to finance the construction of the hostel. Inaugurated on April 17th 1986, by the general himself, it was blessed by the Patriarch. The French sisters of "La Sainte Croix de Jerusalem" are responsible for Pilgrim's Hostel. This responsibility was given to them by the Latin Patriarchate of Jerusalem in 1998.

Foyer Mar Maroun

Maronite Patriarchal Exarchate

Maronite Sisters of Saint Theresa of C.J.

Jerusalem

Mar Maron guest house was founded in April 1895, part of the building of the Maronite Patriarchal Vicariate in Jerusalem which is located in the Old City of Jerusalem near Jaffa Gate.

The house is managed by Maronite Nuns from the congregation of St. Therese of the Child Jesus, who are also responsible of other parochial activities concerning the Maronite Parish in Jerusalem. In 1999, just before the Jubilee year the house was renovated so that each room now has its private bathroom and the other common areas are better lit and renovated so that our guests would have a more agreeable and convenient stay in our house.

There are many reasons that pilgrims keep coming back and tourist agencies insist on reserving places for their groups at our house. Some of these reasons are:

- * The great location of the house being in the Old City and very close to the Holy Sepulcher.
- * The friendly atmosphere which is filled with love and hospitality that they find from the Nuns and the employees at the house.
- * The simplicity of the relationship between the guests and the hosts.

In short the beauty of our guest house is that the pilgrims feel that they are at home, and this is exactly what we aim for.

After the experience of Bethlehem, the bridgettine Sisters, on December 8th 2006, have opened a new foundation in Jerusalem: the Gohn Paul II centre. The House itself, standing on a site of two hectares and located at the foot of Mount of Olives, was built during the period of 1974-76 as a medical research centre, the Gedda Institute, named after its founder Prof. Luigi Gedda. Mount Of Beatitudes

Tiberias

A.N.S.M.I

Franciscan Missionary Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary

Early in this century Senator Schiaparelli, the founder of the association, bought a portion of the mountain known as that of the "Beatitudes", and specifically the part overlooking the lake of Tiberias (or sea of Galilee) and in 1907 began to build a hospice to provide accommodation for the pilgrims visiting the area comprising the ruins of Capharnum, the little church of primacy of Peter and that of the multiplication of loaves and fishes. That building was not finished until 1922 and was entrusted to the Franciscan Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary who still run it today.

In 1938 the adjacent Sanctuary, designed by the Architect Barluzzi, was also completed. Unfortunately, due to the building's age and the nature of the soil, composed of basalt blocks with layers of clay. Now the Hospice provides accommodation for pilgrims from all over the world and made it possible to hold study and prayer courses. Now a project to add more rooms for the guest house and be a Spiritual Center for a retreat is under construction to be ready in 2008.

Notre Dame De Sion

Jerusalem

Religious of our Lady of Sion

The convent of Notre Dame de Sion at Ein-Karem was built in 1861 by Alphonse Ratisbonne (called "Father Mary"), the brother of the founder of the order, Theodore Ratisbonne. After the massacre in Lebanon, Alphonse opened an orphanage and a school for the Arab population of the village. The Sisters kept the school until 1948, when this population fled the village. Since that time it has developed as a guest house, very much appreciated by the local population of the country both Jews and Arabs, Israelis and Palestinians, as well as by pilgrims groups, who enjoy the beauty and the quiet of the place. Two communities of sisters of "Notre Dame de Sion" live in Ein Karem: on contemplative and one apostolic, together with another community called "Chemin Neuf" founded in 1973. St. Charles Convent

Jerusalem

Sisters of St. Charles Borromeo

It was in 1893 when the first Sisters came to the Holy Land and opened an infirmary and a dispensary in the German Colony, Jerusalem. These were the beginnings of St. Charles Convent. Apart from nursing the sick and old people, the Sisters took care of orphans and homeless children by offering them shelter and giving them a good education. In 1905 the Sisters could move into their new convent building, the original part of the present St. Charles Convent. In 1934 the first Holyland pilgrims were given accommodation and were offered meals for groups and from this source of income could be financed school, boarding and shelter for poor children.

World War II entailed hard times for the German Convent. All German Sisters in Palestine as well the Benedictines of the Dormition Abbey in Jerusalem were interned in St. Charles Convent. In addition, British officers occupied a number of rooms. After the war, the Sisters took on another work of charity; they offered shelter to German Jews who had survived the Holocaust in concentration camps and had emigrated to Israel.

In the years to come St. Charles Convent saw an ever increasing flow of pilgrims who wanted to visit and worship the Lord in Jerusalem, the heart and origin of our Christian faith. The traditional hospitality of the Sisters of St. Charles Borromeo makes their guests feel at home in the peaceful atmosphere of the house and in the friendly and comfortable rooms. Apart from their various activities the Sisters run a kindergarten and a pre-school class in the building next to the convent.

St. Thomas Home

Jerusalem

Syrian Catholic Patriarchal Exarchate

The Syrian Catholic Church of Antioch is one of the first communities in Christianity. It had shared from the beginning with Jerusalem the Liturgy of St. James and the Aramaic or Syriac, language spoken by our Lord, the Virgin Mary and the Apostles.

We still recite the Pater Noster as Jesus pronounced it. St. Thomas was the Apostle who evangelized Mesopotamia (today, Iraq and North of Syria and South of Turkey) and India.

Owned by the Syrian Catholic Exarchate of Jerusalem, St. Thomas Home is a hospice for pilgrims, located in the city centre, near Damascus Gate, opposite to the Ecole Biblique of Dominicans, 15 minutes walk from the Holy Sepulcher.
